

To Tom

From All your friends at Vitrex

THE BIRTH OF QEP UK

Earlier on in the year Eddie went to see Sandra and said 'Yesterday, all my troubles seemed so far away, but now it look as though they're here to stay' Sandra promptly agreed 'Help, we need somebody.....Help! not just anybody....Help were gonna need somebody HEEEEELP!'

So Tom got a 'Ticket to Ride' and flew over from California he arrived at Vitrex and he 'Saw Her Standing There' 'Well hello there Sandra, I am sure glad to meet ya' she replied 'Hi Tom, Do you want to know a secret? Its absolutely chaos in there, they just Twist and Shout all the time, you wanna spend a Day in the Life of me mate!'

Tom had a good look around, he befriended the staff, everyone thought he was a decent bloke, with a good personality and sense of humour...well...for a Yank!! So he called back into the sales office and confirmed 'We can work it out'

Tom & Sandra busied themselves with the changeover, sometimes it felt like we were doing '8 Days a Week' you could say 'Its been a Hard Days Night' but we got there 'With a little help from our Friends'

Tom's family came over and he spent some spare time with them, he became a 'Day Tripper' and went on a 'Magical Mystery Tour' around the UK, he travelled down 'Penny Lane' and saw 'Strawberry Fields' but the weather was dreadful and the sun was 'Nowhere Man'

But now the time has come for you to leave us and however much 'I Wanna hold your Hand' we know we must face it alone

So once again Tom got a 'Ticket to Ride' back to the US and I'm sure as he turns to Marianne this evening he will say 'Here comes the Sun'

So Tom, thank you very much for all you have done for us, its been great working with you, you must keep in touch.
